AGAINST THE BEER GARDEN.

NEW-YORK PHYSICIANS PROTEST VIGOR-OUSLY.

EMPHATIC ACTION BY MEMBERS OF THE ACA-DEMY OF MEDICINE-THE WHOLE CITY WOULD BE IN DANGER FROM THE

COVERED RESERVOIR. The Section of Public Health, Legal Medicine, etc., of the New-York Academy of Medicine, held a meeting at No. 17 West Forty-third-st. last evening, ded by a large number of physicians and other citizehs, and took decided action against the passage mstrons project of roofing over the and placing upon it a big beergarden, under the name "air or botanical garden." The announcement that the matter would be discussed had the effect to till the large hall of the academy with an intelligent and attentive audience. Dr. Henry D. Chapin, of No. 27 West Fifty-first-st., presided, and pr. S. T. Armstrong, of No. 832 Seventh-ave., was before opening the debate of the evening. Dr. Chapin said that it became his duty to call attention an act pending in the Legislature to compel the proper ventilation of public halls, factories, churches, aires and buildings of all sorts where large num bers of people were accustomed to assemble. It was in line with former action of the academy, and the chairman asked that the bill be approved. This action was taken unanimously,

Dr. Chapin then observed that in introducing bills and pressing the passage of matters of legislation the sanitary effect of the measure was generally the last thing lawmakers thought of. Everything was considered before the public health. This was notoriously the case with the bill which had passed the Assembly and was now pending in the Senate which contemplated the establishment of an alleged botanical garden over the Forty-second-st, reservoir. The chairman called upon Dr. Richard H. Derby, of No. 9 West Thirty-fifth-st., who read a paper briefly summarizing the purposes of the "Air-Garden" bill and expressing surprise at the headway it had made in Albany. Medical men recognized in this scheme an undenlable menace to the public health. Its success would be followed surely if not swiftly by ride-pread disease and suffering. After speaking of the dangers to be feared not only in the neighbornood, but wherever in the city the poisoned water would be distributed. Dr. Derby offered a resolution. as follows: "That the members of this section of the Academy of Medicine do earnestly protest against the passage of this bill, on the ground that the placing of an air-garden with pavilions, botanical and restaurants upon it would tend to pollute the water in the reservoir and result in widespread sickness and death."

The first speaker in the discussion which followed the reading of Dr. Derby's paper was Dr. Alfred L. Loomis, of No. 19 West Thirty-fourth-st. The Doctor was received with cordial handelapping, and he ned at once into a vigorous denunciation of the telling points against the plan were quickly responded to by his sympathetic hearers. It seemed unaccountable to him, he said, that any body of reflecting men could be found to sustain such an absurd proposition as the placing of a stagnant pool of water in the heart of this great city. To carry out the scheme of an eli garden over the reservoir would create a pool of inbetton that would not only endanger the health and spread all over the city. Such pollution of the water as would certainly follow the carrying out of this scheme would originate a class of infection which doctors regard as most dangerous. He had talked not only with physicians about this matter, but also with engineers and expert builders, and they had informed him that it was impossible to erect such a structure as had been designed so as to prevent leakage down into the reservoir. It seemed impassible to comprehend so dons a fraud upon the public being allowed to go to the length it had. It was an evidence of the lassi tude of the people of New-York when their most ca sential interests were menaced in the broad light of It was the duty of the physicians of New-York otest carnestly against such a life-destroying Not only should they raise their voice undertaking. and arouse the people to their danger, but they she go to Albany, if necessary, and make Legislature understand that the action of Assembly if consummated would result in spread disease broadcast over the city. was not a question of whether the music from the nds would disturb the sensibilities of the residents of the neighborhood. It went far beyond anything like this. The speaker could not believe that the measure would pass the senate, but the gentle-men of that body must not be allowed to vote upon it without having their attention called to the enormity of the proposition. Dr. A. Jacobi, of No. 110 West Thirty fourth-st. speke next, and heartily joined with Dr. Loomis in all that the latter had said. He only disagreed with the doctor in respect to his astonishment People nowadays were no more angels than they were 100 years ago. (Laughter.) But as to the scheme itself was an outrage-a scientific and moral outrage (Applause.) A glass of impure water would not sill, but the use of such water would undermine health. Typhoid buellii existed in water covered as the reservoir would be if this bill became law. It was strange that decent members of the Legislature could be found to advocate it. Where such danger existed it was time for well-informed men to place themselves in the

could not be said that they were influenced against it because they lived in the neighborhood of the attempted outrage. Dr. Janeway followed up his argument with incidents in his professional experience showing the poisonous nature of polluted water and the discusses it engandered.

Dr. D. B. St. John Roosa sent a letter which was read by the secretary saying: "An engagement made atomit to seize upon the Forty-second st. reservoir for the purpose of putting an open air garden upon it, I am confident that the Legislature will fist a to what you have to say. While protesting against this unisanitary project, would it not be well for the medical profession to endeavor to seems such legislation as will enable New York City to remove the medical profession to endeavor to remove the medical reservoir and put a real garden, founded on earth, not water, in its place; "

STRUGGLE OVER THE LICENSE BILL IN THE

NEW-HAMPSHIRE LEGISLATURE. Concord, N. H., March 18 .- In the House this afternoon, Mr. Hodgdon, of Portsmonth, called for the unfinished business, it being the roll-call demanded by Mr. Heath, of Manchester, on the question of taking the License bill from the table. The bill was taken of Peterboro, moved to postpone indefinitely; this was lost on a roll-call, 154 to 164. Several members spoke in opposition to the bill. Each expressed the hope that the friends of the Prohibitory law in the House would refrain from voting while bill was under consideration. Mr. Woodbury, of Bedford, said that he saw no reason why the men should not vote. The Speaker stated the question: "Shall the bill be read the third time?"

Mr. Bell said: "I move that the House adjourn, and I hope no members opposed to the License bill will (Applause.)

The roll was called and the members who objected to the bill refrained from voting. Mr. Williams, of Manchester, asked to have called the names of everal members who were present but did not vote. They were called, but no response was made. Mr Williams asked if there was any way under the rule by which members could be compelled to vote, and the speaker replied that he knew of none. The rol call resulted—5 to 152. As no quorum voted, the speaker declared an adjournment until evening. The speaker declared an adjournment bill will be called up to-morrow.

NEAL CHOSEN TO PIT AGAINST CAMPBELL.

Columbus, Ohio, March 18 (Special).-There can no longer be any doubt that Governor Campbell has been singled out as the next eletim of the Cincinnati crowd sustained by the Washington ring of the Democratic party. It has been noticeable for several weeks that the chief party organ here has had nothing to say of complimentary nature of the Executive, but has a complimentary nature of the Executive, but has found ample space to publish correspondence calculated to throw a wei blanket over the jubilant hopes of the Governor for renomination and re-election. From all that can be learned, Lawrence T. Neat has been chosen as the man to beat the Governor, and it is believed by many of the shrewder politicians that unless the Governor specify makes his peace with Cincinnati and Washington ice will go down in mortification and defeat at the next convention.
